

LOS ANGELES-LONG BEACH-GLENDALE METROPOLITAN DIVISION
(LOS ANGELES COUNTY)

Most industries show normal seasonal gains; professional and business services lead the year-over growth

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate in Los Angeles County decreased over the month to 6.0 percent in February 2005 from a revised 6.1 percent in January 2005 and was below the rate of 6.6 percent one year ago. Civilian employment grew by 30,000 to 4,556,000 in February 2005, while unemployment fell by 1,000 to 291,000 over the month. The civilian labor force expanded by 29,000 over the month to 4,847,000 in February 2005. (All of the above figures are seasonally adjusted.) The unadjusted unemployment rate for the county was 6.1 percent in February 2005.

The California seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 5.8 percent in February 2005, 5.8 percent in January 2005, and 6.4 percent a year ago in February 2004. The comparable estimates for the nation were 5.4 percent in February 2005, 5.2 percent in January 2005, and 5.6 percent a year ago.

Between January and February 2005, the metropolitan division experienced a nonfarm employment expansion of 30,300 to reach 3,990,600 jobs.

- Nine of the eleven industries report employment growth over the month. These gains are mostly due to normal seasonal hiring patterns. The two that declined were: trade, transportation, and utilities (down 3,800); and natural resources and mining (down 100).
- Due to classes resuming after the holiday break, educational and health services posted the largest payroll gain, adding 9,500 jobs. Educational services grew by 7,900 jobs, while health care and social assistance added 1,600 jobs.
- Information, which normally sees an employment jump in February, gained 8,100 jobs.
- Professional and business services augmented payrolls by 6,200, mostly in administrative and support and waste services (up 3,900).

Between February 2004 and February 2005, Los Angeles County grew by 14,800 nonfarm jobs, or 0.4 percent.

- Professional and business services showed the largest year-over gain, adding 11,500 jobs. This industry has posted 9 consecutive months of over-the-year growth, after 38 uninterrupted months of year-over decline (April 2001 through May 2004).
- Trade, transportation, and utilities (12 months of year-over growth) grew by 7,900 jobs. Gains in retail trade (up 4,300) and transportation, warehouse, and utilities (up 4,600) were only slightly offset by a loss of 1,000 jobs in wholesale trade.
- Educational and health services (up 7,500) is a steady growth industry. This industry has averaged a monthly year-over growth of over 5,900 jobs since January 1991.
- Employment dropped over the year in three industries: manufacturing (down 9,900); government (down 8,400); and information (down 8,200).
